

Important information for applicants

The Nelson Tasman Housing Trust (NTHT) provides quality, affordable, healthy rental homes for people and whānau in need.

Criteria

Our rental homes are for people on low-to-modest incomes. To qualify, you must either

- Be on the Ministry of Social Development Housing Register, or
- Have income less than the median local household income. Currently, this is $1150 per week for one adult, and up to $1850 for a family, depending on household size.

We strongly recommend you apply to get on the Ministry of Social Development (MSD) Housing Register. The first step is to call Work & Income on 0800 673 468 and request a 'housing assessment.' They will call you back to conduct a telephone interview.

It can be well worth the effort to get on the MSD Housing Register, because if you are approved, you will pay just 25% of your income on rent, when you secure a home with either NTHT or Kāinga Ora (formerly Housing NZ).

If you do not qualify for the Register, but you still qualify for one of our homes, you will pay 80% of the market rent for that type of property.

Our application and assessment process

When we receive your fully completed application and assessment form, you will be placed on our waiting list. We will send a letter or email acknowledging that we have received your application and explain what the next steps will be. We will schedule face-to-face interviews with applicants only when we know we have an upcoming vacancy. The interview is an essential second step, so we can understand your situation and circumstances.

Please be patient - NTHT usually has just a few (4 to 5) vacancies each year, so we are not able to guarantee you a housing placement at any given time.

Why we request this information

NTHT is required by the government, as a charity and as a registered community housing provider, to serve people on low-to-modest incomes – so we must confirm your income. We also want to know if you have enough income to pay the rent level you are applying for, or if we can help you get further support. Our assessment process looks at many factors such as your household's needs, home size and location preferred, reliability and responsibility as a future tenant. The information you provide helps us begin that assessment process.

Pre-Housing Application and Assessment

Please answer all the questions in this form. The information you provide will be used only by NTHT to confirm your application for housing and to help us assess your household's needs. Your privacy is protected under the Privacy Act 2020.
